Product description:

Use 3M backing belts for exceptional results in applications ranging from automated high pressure grinding to spontaneous low to medium pressure operations, on equipment such as backstands, belt sanders, conveyors and long belt sanders .

- The profiled and calibrated grain cuts very quickly, which increases productivity.
- Requires less pressure, reduces operator fatigue.
- Suitable for dry applications.
- Designed to run cooler, to protect heat sensitive alloys from stress cracking and discoloration.

Cubitron II ceramic: The calibrated profiled grain forms triangular points, which cut through the metal instead of gouging or planing it like traditional abrasives. These points continuously self-sharpen as they break for extremely fast cutting with less heat output, reducing stress cracking and heat discoloration.
